Here's To Warrenton High

Here's to 1990! The students of Warrenton High are celebrating this new decade all school year round.

From Football/Volleyball season to Basketball, Wrestling, and Track/Baseball season, W.H.S. has done nothing but spectacular in lifting our spirits to an all time high this 1990 school year.

Whether in sports, spirits, or academics, improvement was our goal, and that is what the Warriors have accomplished. "Celebrating our students' effort and accomplishments is the single most important encouragement we can give," says Mr. Audet, our W.H.S. principal.

This year, we have had more opportunities to expand our horizons and gain new scholastic interests. We have new elective options from Japanese via satellite, to Business Lab, to Mythology.

All of these exciting new things give our Warriors a lot to celebrate. Here's to 1990!

FRESHMEN

Part of being a freshman is becoming aware of the gradual change from adolescence to adulthood. For most, the changes occur in the areas of social maturity, academics, values, and physical appearance, and success in making these adjustments can determine the rest of a high school career.

Through social activities and classes, freshmen learned how to fit into the scheme of high school life.

The first day the freshmen saw intimidating creatures commonly referred to as seniors. At first freshmen tried to avoid these larger than life people as much as they could, fearing the "penny."

But as the days went on, freshmen got more used to the seniors and the structure of high school and started experiencing the joys high school has to offer, such as more activities, more clubs, and more people who become friends.

For many freshmen, the most exciting part of the year was Homecoming, which was completely new for them. The 1989 game was awesome, with a win over Vernonia. Though not all the freshmen attended the dance, those who were there enjoyed the decorations and fun. And, of course, everybody enjoyed the week's activities.

With all the changes and new experiences, freshmen memories are a great start to the best years of high school.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomore year is one to celebrate. No more "freshmen" jokes. No more dodging seniors in the halls--they aren't so big any more. A person can have more electives. And, best of all, there's always the freshmen to pick on.

The class of 1992 is more than looking forward to their senior year. In asking some of the sophomores how they felt about their graduating class, we found out they are planning to have a very athletic class. Football, volleyball, basketball, baseball, wrestling, and track are what the class of 1992 uses to show their true Warrior spirit.

Although the sophomore year is a lot of fun and something to look forward to, it's also a lot of hard work. It means English II, Biology, Health, Math, and the infamous Drivers Ed. Yes, for most sophomores, it means learning how to drive, or at least trying to learn to drive.

Even though earning a drivers license and taking harder classes seem like big steps, they're small potatoes compared to the realization of "We're growing up now." Starting to think about life after high school can be very stressful.

Sophomores have many things going through their heads. They start thinking about graduating, going to college, working, and wondering what the future will bring.

But there's something that we learn here at Warrenton High, and that is to meet these new challenges and always come out on top in spirit.

JUNIORS

Any Warrenton High senior or graduate will tell you that the junior year is the hardest academically. U.S. History, English III, and especially Personal Finance are very demanding classes and require doing excessive homework.

Yet, the junior year is somewhat easier socially. Most have their drivers licenses and later curfews. Juniors have more freedom just because they are upperclassmen.

The changes that occur in each individual throughout the junior year will influence many of the decisions they will make after graduating from Warrenton High School. During the junior year, many are becoming comfortable with their goals in life. Many know whether they will attend college, enter the military, or go straight to work. Some have chosen their career interests and are preparing ways to reach their goals.

The Class of 1991 has many memories of this year. These range anywhere from winning Homecoming 1989, to seeing the destruction of the San Francisco earthquake and experiencing the remarkable changes going on all over the globe, including the invasion of Panama, the demolition of the Berlin Wall, and the political changes in Romania and the U.S.S.R.

Faced with all of these changes and more, the class of 1991 is prepared for the future!

Grad

This Grad Night was definitely a great success, thanks to Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Hendrickson, the head organizers of the night.

The kids had many things to keep them busy until the early morning. Many were involved with the casino, and others danced the night away, with Mr. Chase as the DJ. There were other activities such as swimming. Mr. McBride was the target for the night in the dunk tank. Meals and snacks were provided all night. It was a great farewell!

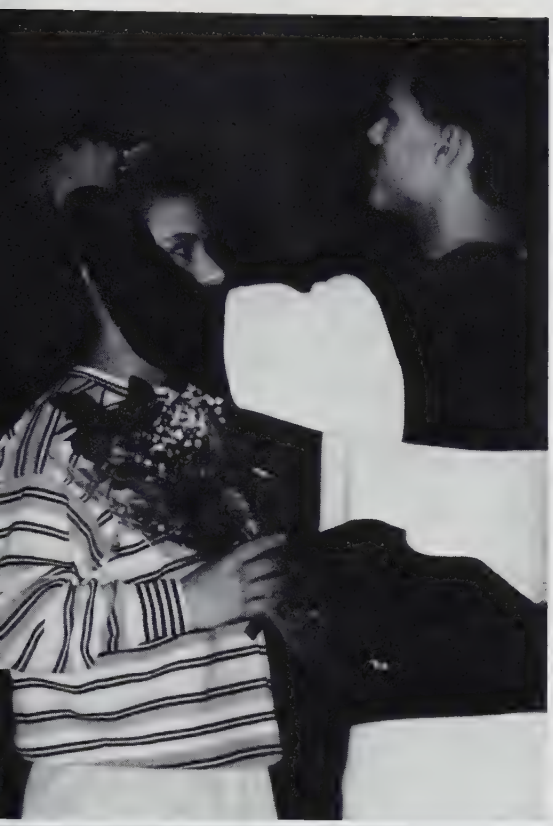
How do girls do this every day? It's not as easy as it looks.

Homecoming

1. Scott Watson crowns Jodie Curnow.
2. Jim Thomas presents Maggie Anderson with her crown.



This year's princess unveiling was held on Monday night, instead of during the day time activities.

The court announcement started the evening's activities. Tenzin Gyatso introduced the escorts, who presented their respective princess a rose and tiara. The 1989 Homecoming Court were as follows:

Frosh: Shashonee Thornton & Donny Sturgell
Soph: Tracy Bergerson & Kelly Ray
Jr: Angela Thompson & Mark Johnson
Sr.: Maggie Anderson & Jim Thomas
Jodie Curnow & Scott Watson
Jeanette Now & Mark Thompson

The queen was not announced that night. This was a new idea to keep us in suspense as to who she was. On Friday night all the girls were driven out onto the field during the game's half time. They were introduced and the queen was picked by the draw of a rose - two picked pink and one red. The girl with the red rose in her box was the queen. Jodie was that lucky young lady, and she was awarded her crown and banner as 1989 Homecoming Queen.

3. It appears that the Jr. class girls have the boys well trained.
4. Mark Thompson as he spits on John McDaniel.
5. Trask Bergerson is spitting one of his grapes into the bucket.

The dress for the day was generic, which meant each student was to dress in black and white with labels.

The Junior Olympics for the day was the pie eating contest. One football player from each class was involved. They were Tashi Rabgey, Morgan Owen, John McDaniel, and Mark Thompson. John and Mark had a little disagreement and wore their pies by the event's end.

The four classes had a chance to work on their class competitions, (videos, banners, door decorations, and Vernonia Logger Mascots). This was the first time we were allowed to get out of class to do this.

The evening activities were the announcing of the Homecoming court, introductions of Senior athletes and their parents, and the VIDEOS!

9. Missy Bjaranson and Jessica Garcia in their costumes from the Orient.

The dress of the day was International." Jodie Curnow won with her Egyptian costume.

The Grape Spit was the Junior Olympic event of the day. Ten people from each class were given three grapes each. Then one person and grape at a time, they had to spit that grape into a bucket! The Sr. class was the winner!!!

The rest of the day was spent finishing up all the things that were started the day before.

The theme for the day was cartoons. Each person was to dress as a cartoon character. Sheri Haskell won with her Donald Duck costume.

The tennis ball race was the day's Junior Olympic event. This was a race involving five members who received two tennis balls and a nylon stocking. They were to put one ball in the stocking and tie it around their waists. Then, without using their hands, they were to use that ball to move the other ball around an obstacle.

That evening was the boys volleyball games. The games began with the freshmen playing the sophomores. Then the juniors played the seniors. The championship was decided when the two winning teams played each other.

Wednesday

"Back in Time" was the dress-up theme for today. Ron Browne won with his cave man costume.

The Junior Olympic contestants competed in the "Ice Cream Drop." One boy from each class bravely lay on the floor with an ice cream cone in his mouth. A girl from his class would attempt to drop a scoop of ice cream into the cone, or the boy's face, which ever was closer! The contestants from the Frosh class were Heather Borders and Donny Srurgell; from the Soph. class were Vanessa Thomas and Ryker Thornton; from the Jr. Class were Vicki Cadonau and Curtis Taylor; and from the Sr. class, Jodie Curnow and Jason Mickle

That evening there was a girls volleyball game against Vernonia. All students were encouraged to attend and show the girls their support class. The team was preparing for the game.

The game started at 7:30. Although it was raining, the stands were full. The Warriors pulled ahead in the first quarter. They were still ahead as they left the field at halftime.

It was now time to see which class had won the competitions. The announcement came . . . "And the winning class this year are the Juniors!"

Then the procession of princesses began. Each princess was escorted by her father, carrying an umbrella. As they waited for the introductions, each senior princess hoped for the red rose that would signal her selection as queen. Soon Jodie Curnow was crowned WHS 1989 Homecoming Queen.

The football game ended in a 33-0 victory over the Vernonia Loggers. However, the week wasn't over yet.

Friday

Saturday, October 22, 1989, the WHS gymnasium was the site and time of this year's Homecoming dance. The decorations reflected the theme of this year: HOLLYWOOD NIGHTS. Banners from the class competition were on display. There was a bridge and a fountain that were talked about for weeks after — these were what caught people's eyes immediately.

Music was performed by a DJ and people danced the night away. By the end of the evening there were many sore feet (as evidenced by the fact many people had taken off their shoes) but everyone enjoyed themselves.

Pictures were taken on the bridge — not just the usual ones of couples, but treasured memories of friends and of the court. There was a professional photographer to capture these special memories.

Student Council is an organization of young leaders who in fact, run almost all school activities. They do many projects during the year that better our school and community. This year, the Student Council held a Community Project Day to beautify the area across the street from the school. With lots of hard work and help from the City of Warrenton, they made a small park that many future classes will enjoy.

"In Oregon there is too much rain. In Japan, during August there are typhoons. Sometimes trees blow down, rivers overflow, and sometimes run all over cities. The water move cars and sometimes houses. Sometimes people die," Yukiko Soma, our exchange student from Hiratuka, Japan, commented on the weather of Oregon and Japan.

The music scene is similar in both countries. Bon Jovi, Sting, Duran Duran, etc., are very popular and there are some Japanese groups that are just as popular. Speaking about American music, "I can't understand the words, but I like the music," Yukiko said.

She has enjoyed many things since she has come to America. She went to California with her host family. She has gone sight seeing and experienced the night life of Seaside in the spring with friends. And during Spring Vacation, Yukiko went to Mexico with her church youth group. She also went to Spokane, Washington, to look at the college she may attend next fall.

We all have seen Achim Warth, our exchange student om Neu-Isenburg, Germany (a small town near Frankfurt), ith a camera around his neck. "The guy with the camera" njoys taking pictures so much that one of his favorite ings to do is to take pictures of the stars at night back ome.

He is a valuable part of the yearbook staff, both taking ctures and developing the film. He also has had some of s pictures in The Columbia Press.

Achim is a member of Key Club and the track team. He articipated in all the Senior activities, including Senior Skip ay. There he stunned his class mates with his skiing abilities.

Even with all the changes that are occurring in Eastern urope this year, Achim is not anxious to go home when the chool year is out.

Sadie Hawkin's Dance

Sadie Hawkins was put on this year by Girls' League to the traditional Hillbilly theme. Although many came dressed accordingly, few knew why they were wearing piggy tails, flannel, cut-off jeans shorts, and straw hats.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance was started after the cartoon "Dog Patch Days." In this cartoon, there was one day a year when a girl could run and catch a man to be her husband. This is why the girl asks the boy to the dance and often treats him to dinner.

Other highlights of the dance included the decorations and the marrying of the couples by Marryin' Sam (Mr. Hackwith). The dance was a big success!

7. "Do you, Vicki, take this man, to cook for and to clean up after, til night do you part?" asks Marryin' Sam (Mr. Hackwith).

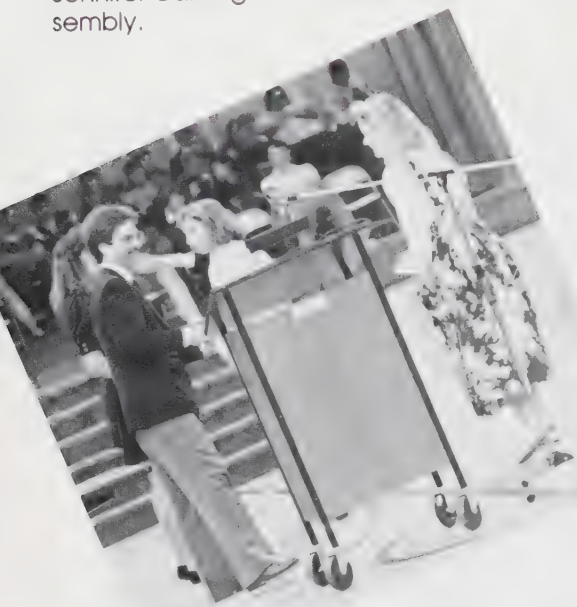
Midnight Masquerade

Prom Night 1990 was one to remember. Queen Ellen Snell, Jodie Curnow, and Princess Polly Rowland show some "sexy" legs while flashing those pearly whites.

1. Did Trask Bergerson and Vicki Cadonau have a good time? "I don't know, I had my eyes closed the whole time," says Vicki.
2. Maggie Anderson, Corkey Buckman, Brandon Bridgens, and Scott Watson all desperately try to contain their enthusiasm while waiting for Mr. Audet and Mr. Warren to show up with the music.
3. Steve Barnard graciously holds the door open for Joel Howatt and Jennifer Prince as they make a grand exit.

Assemblies . . .

Mr. Audet introduces Co-Valedictorians Marie Ford and Kristen Lee and Salutatorian Jennifer Bartling at the annual Awards Assembly.



The sophomore girls enjoy the Target Day Assemblies.

Brian Rankin says "Hi" as Steve Barnard explains Brian's qualifications for Student Body Vice-President.

Dance Team members Jennifer Bartling and Nicole Anderson get our spirits pumping at a pep assembly.

Abby Smith (Aunt Jemima) fits right in the rest of her senior class. After all, Homecoming Week!

"That's Entertainment!!!"

"¿Hablas Español?" The Spanish I and III classes took part in many exciting things this year. In February they attended the Mexican Ballet. In March, Spanish I took part in a language fair sponsored by Spanish III, while Spanish III went to Eugene in May.

Although the classes do a lot of fun things, there is still a lot of work: Conjugating verbs, learning five types of objects (I, we, them, he, she, you, it, and you [close friend]), learning numbers and four new letters in the alphabet. By the time you finish Spanish I you can write poetry "en español" or bargain for goods on the street of Mexico City.

1) Toni Qualin and Eric Barber go shopping at the store.
2) Hijacked!
3) "Groupo."

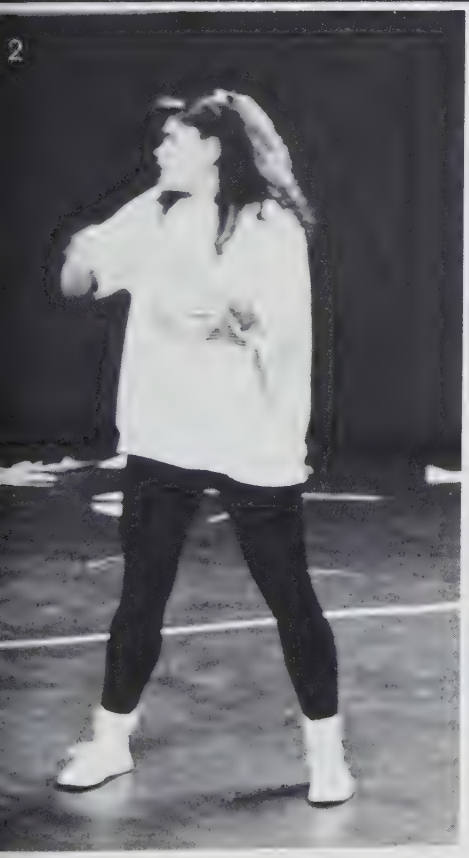
Drama

Rehearsals, readings, make-up and scripts . . . DRAMA seems like an easy "A", but there is a lot of hard work. This year he class has done a variety of things, ranging from doing plays (ABRA CADAVER, THINGS CHANGE, THE SUBSTITUTE, AND LOUDER, I CAN'T HEAR YOU), writing scenes, and watching the classics on film (THE MALTESE FALCON, CASABLANCA and THE TREASURE OF THE SIERRA MADRE).

1) Steve Barnard and Trask Bergerson discuss the Postal System.
2) Melony Connaway rehearses a dance.
3) Mark Thompson moves the audience with his reading of " 'Chasey' at the Bat."
4) LOUDER, MR. WARREN, WE CAN'T HEAR YOU!

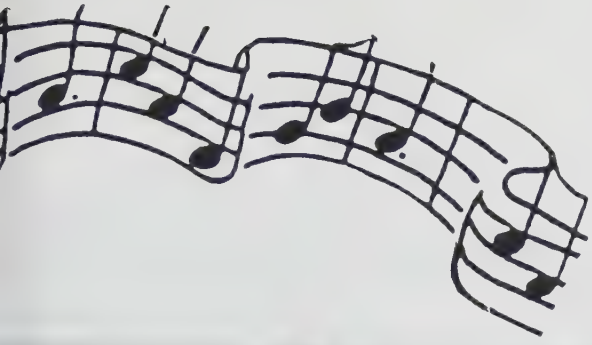


Band

Our 1989-90 band and choir classes had a very busy year.

They participated in the Western State Festival and got very good ratings. They also attended the Northwest League Coral Festival, where eight schools were involved. The quality of this year's band and choir classes really matured throughout the year. Some of our students plan to pursue careers in the music arts.

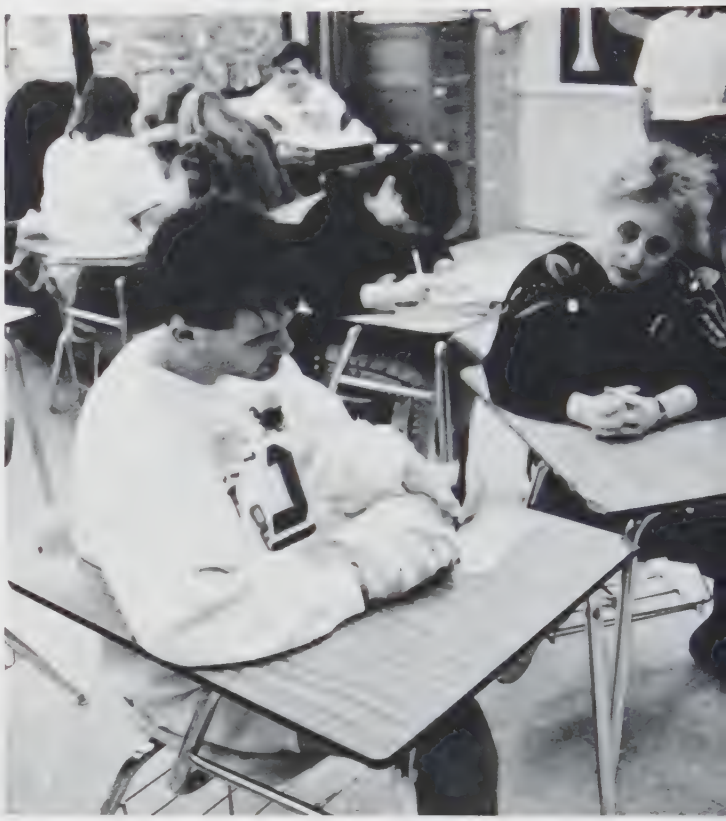
Next year's classes set a goal for a retreat in the fall and a tour in the spring. Here's to our band and choir on a job well done!



Choir

1. Jon Hellberg and Terri Porter show off their talent.
2. Mr. Ogren gives us little jazz!
3. Band class gives a great performance.
4. Choir shows us their all.
5. Choir waits as Terri Porter sings her solo.
6. A great conductor can never keep his hands still.

Here's To Our Journalism Class!



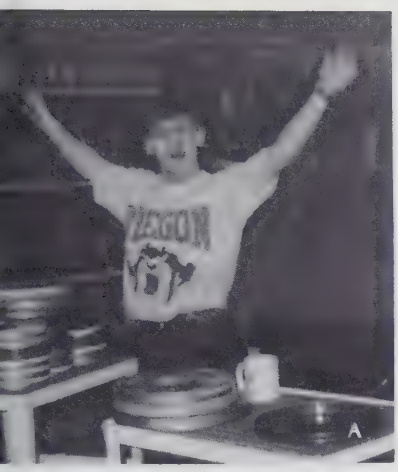
Every month 1,000 copies of the Warrior Times were published, which taught these students how to stay on task.

Each student was assigned stories and interviews and was responsible for making lay outs and copy for the publisher. They used follow up stories and learned how to incorporate photographs into articles.

Journalism students learned how to cooperate with one another and how to be creative under pressure, learning skills they can use in the real world.

A. Mrs. Rupp and John McDaniel work together on Journalism copy
B. Nicole Anderson shows Jennifer Prince how to work the computer
C. A group of Journalism students put their heads together for new ideas.

Skills Lab/Vocational



Skills Lab and Vocational classes are very special programs set up for students to expand their educational abilities.

Our 1989-90 Vocational class did a lot more than sitting at a desk, they got a "little hands on training." They were also involved in a program called work experience at stores, such as Fred Meyer. They got a taste of real responsibility, hard work, and dedication. This class is helping a lot with better preparing them for the future.

Skills Lab demonstrates different ways of learning by using other modalities such as hear, touch and smell. Also offered is a satellite enriched prep course that teaches Japanese 1 & 2, prep Calculus, and Advanced English. We can expect a lot of good come out from these students!

A. Where do I start?
B. Vocational students eagerly pose for group picture.
C. Becky Albrecht works with the copy machine.
D. A few students get involved with work experience at Fred Meyer.

WHS

The Warrenton High School staff of 1990 are all teaching for the same reason: They want to help young people, and it's very rewarding for them if students make the most out of their help and effort. After all, that's the reason they have chosen this profession.

Teachers have many responsibilities. They plan lessons, talk with parents and evaluate students' school work. They also help students solve problems. Most of us realize they don't do it for the money.

Just ask Mr. Hackwith, who said, "I chose teaching because I felt it is a gift and I should do it for the kids. I can't really think of anything else I would rather do."

When Ms. Whitney was asked why she went into teaching, she responded, "Because my education was a positive experience and I wanted to share it with others."

Then there's Mr. Warren, who swears he became a teacher for one reason: "So I could terrorize Chris Chase!"

But no matter how they state it, it comes down to wanting to share what they've learned and helping young people grow.

The same is true for the rest of the staff, whose work helps support the teachers and the students in their respective jobs of teaching and learning.

The high school setting is a busy one, filled with ringing phones, after school activities, deadlines, and students who need everything from a locker unjammed to a nourishing lunch, not to mention a first class education, and it takes special people to make it all work.

Pictured here are those special people, kind and compassionate, who care about young people.

Football

This year the 89-90 football team went 8-1 in league and 0-1 in State playoffs.

The team had ten Seniors who helped lead the team to second place in the Northwest League. The season started with four wins, then a disappointing loss to Neahkahnie, and then rebounded with four wins to secure second place. Then in the first round at state playoffs, a Warrior comeback came four points shy against Gaston. Despite being down 22-6 at the half, the Warriors rallied back to lose a thriller 30-26.

Here's to the 89-90 Warrior football team on a job well done!

6. Rick Browne hurls his hapless opponent out of bounds.

The Warrenton wrestlers really have something to celebrate. They traveled over 4,000 miles, mowing down 78 different teams in route to win a dual meet state title, the Waldport 18-team title, the Joseph 16-team title, both Warrenton Invitationals, the Astoria Invitational, and the Vernonia Invitational. In route to their dual meet title, they posted an exciting come-from-behind victory over the team dynasty Lowell (Lowells' second dual meet loss in a single A dual in the last 25 years). The season was capped with a team District championship and a 3rd place finish at State. The seven wrestlers at stat were Trask Bergerson, Brian Cantrell, Donny Sturgell, Jason Bjaranson, Steve Simmons, Curtis Taylor, and Ryan Lee.

Donny and Steve place 4th in State, while Brian was 2nd behind teammate and State Champ Trask (his 2nd title). District Champs were Ryan (98 lbs), Donny (106 lbs), Curt (130 lbs), and Steve (Hwt). All return along with State runner-up Brian C. and District runner-up Jay B.

Here's to our Warrenton wrestlers!

We asked these wrestlers what their highlights were of this season.
Trask Bergerson: "My main goal was going to state. I hope I do as well in college."
Damien Gannaway: "My highlight was beating Lowell and Riddle."
Scott Watson: "This is my best year in wrestling. Everybody worked together like one big family."
Let's see what Mr. Warren had to say . . . "The main highlight for wrestling this year was beating Lowell and Riddle. We had a great team this year. Everybody in each weight division was a good wrestler."

Warrenton nears top spot

The 1990 Boys team and first year Varsity coach Kevin Gramson set a goal for the season, "To achieve more success than recent past Warrenton boy teams." And that they did! After disappointing pre-league games, the Warriors climbed to third place with a record a record of 8-5 league, and 12-10 overall. After losing their last three league games, the motivation was there and the boys exploded into the district tournament.

The Warrior destroyed Columbia Christian in the first half 45-21, and turned away a late rally by the Knights, to win 77-59.

In the second game, the Warriors stuck it to the Nea-Kah-Nie Pirates. The Warriors learned their lesson from the night before, and took over the third quarter and second half erasing any chance of a Pirate rally, to win 72-55.

The third time wasn't the charm, however, in the final game to advance to regionals. The Vernonia Loggers took over the game weary Warriors and won a close game 82-72.

Those receiving All-League honors were: Geoff Hitchman, 1st. Team; and Todd Bay, 2nd. Team. Team Awards went to: Mark Thompson, Team Cptn. Geoff Hitchman, M.V.P.; Steve Barnard, Most Insprtl; Mike Ulness, Most Improved.

Organization, mental work payoff

"We started this season with a lot of new faces and a new coaching staff. Previous J.V. coach Don Lampi stepped up this year to replace Kevin Gramson as Head Girls Coach. Don and our new J.V. coach Jon Claterbos had a few goals for us: Be a "Class Team", get in shape, play as a team and make it to the playoffs.

For the next few months they molded us into just that. With a lot of running, a lot of mental work, and organization, we went through our schedule, ending up 11-9 with a 1st. round District playoff berth

We started our season strong, beating 2 AA schools and we went into league with confidence

We played well for having a young team and gave some of the finer teams a run for their money

Everyone in our program worked hard and was dedicated We all worked together as a team and showed good sportsmanship. From the three leaving seniors, this couldn't have been a better season thanks to the wonderful coaching staff and every single girl who contributed to the team."
